@Marine: yeah, that's perfectly fine

like,,, small scorpio themes are ok bc scorpions are linked to the constellation scorpio, but i recommend not overdoing it/making scorpio the main theme

Name: Tamaru Queshire

Hero Name: Keelback

Gender: Trans Female

Age (13-17): 17

Sexuality/Orientation: Aromantic Asexual

Appearance: Tall, and lean for somebody of her height. She has back length, inky black hair pulled into a ponytail and hooded, light brown eyes. Above one of her eyes, she has the tattoo of a snake biting into a small swallow, in full colour. The snake's body wraps around her eyebrow, and the snake's head is near the corner of her eye, giving the effect that the swallow is a tear that the snake is eating. Tamaru wears loose fitting clothing, usually in warm tones. She wears an Aro/Ace pride pin and a Trans pin.

Personality: There's something puzzling about her, be it her personality or just her presence. She tends to look down on those who don't fit her line of thought, or are, in her mind, 'idiotic'. Tamaru also engages in only scientific pursuits, seeing the others (like physical education) as needless if you can just outsmart the other person. Seemingly cold, she's more likely to brush you off than divert any attention to what you are saying- unless it's about snakes, venom or poison, which are her special interests.

Hero Appearance: A black skintight suit seemingly scaled with orange and yellow in natural checker-like stripes. The mask is a dark, dirty brown-orange that fades into black at the edges. On the shoulders are two barely noticable water-bottle like containers, which continuously leak a thin, clear fluid through the scales on the suit. Another pair of these containers are found behind the mask, padding it. The mask-containers are linked to the fake fangs on the mask, which can removed when the hero is under stress.

Hero Personality: see personality

Weapon: The suit itself.

Powers: The suit is constantly coated in an irritant, and the fake-fangs are coated in a sedative.

Special Power (ie.: Cataclysm, Lucky Charm): N/A, she does not have one as her 'special power' is passive (always on).

Miraculous Appearance: The ink inside of her tattoo. When off, the tattoo is as shown in appearance. When on, the snake is biting into another snake (a king cobra) that was wrapped around her other eyebrow.

Mental Strengths: Scientific and rational.

Physical Strengths: Fast reactions.

Emotional Strengths: Not hindered by emotions.

Mental Weaknesses: Only focuses on one thing at a time.

Physical Weaknesses: Physically weak.

Emotional Weaknesses (Akuma prey): Emotionally numb.

Other: owo whats this

Name: Yamma

Pronouns: They/Them

Animal: Tiger Keelback

Personality: Just as cold as their owner, they enjoy picking on kwami smaller or physically weaker than them, knowing that the larger and stronger kwami cannot hurt them.

Appearance: A large, winding kwami with neon orange checkered patterns. They have a heart shaped brown splash on their face that they hate.

Food: Frog Legs

calmdragon840

Name: Clemence

Hero Name: Acrimony

Gender: Female

Age (13-17): 17

Sexuality/Orientation: Bi

Appearance: She wears black pants, black glossy leather boots, black gloves with a few spikes on the knuckles. Scarlet hair with one marine blue streak. She wears a black jacket made out of snake skin. Her eyes are light blue and she has smokey eye makeup. Her skin is pale, her nails are black. Yes her hair is normal.

Personality: Bored, rude, sarcastic, not very great at team work.

Hero Appearance: Has a alien thing in her chest that is just like a symbiote. It comes out whenever I likes to. She has the weird symbiote eyes along with a large mouth, long razor sharp teeth, long tongue and toxic saliva. Her aliens color is a mixture of scarlet red and Marine blue, her hair used to be brown until the symbiote infected her. In her form and when not in her form, the alien allows her to heal nearly in an instant unless its critical then it will take a day. Bad things about her, the aliens name is Lamia, it could take over her body at any moment. Clement gets annoying when she begins to talk non stop about her knowledge of space. Clement and Lamia become Acrimony is when her alien takes over. She does not become the symbiote, she has no control of it. The symbiote acts like armor that is alive. Clemence only tells the Symbiote what to do.

Hero Personality: The alien bonded with their hosts, creating a symbiotic bond through which a single entity is created. The alien is able to slightly alter their hosts personalities, by influencing their darkest desires and wants, along with amplifying their physical and emotional traits and personality, granting them super-human abilities. She is kind of a hero but lacks good hero characteristics.

Weapon: The user possesses a weapon that is symbiotically bonded to them, allowing them to control the weapon and influence it's power and properties. Basically she can make her hand turn into a long sword when in her symbiote form.

Powers: When in their form, she can summon weapons from her symbiote's structure, and has an unlimited amount.

Special Power (ie.: Cataclysm, Lucky Charm): Can bite villains and robber's heads off if she wants too, if Lamia wants to. Can scent anyone 15 miles away unless if something is preventing her from tracking them down.

Miraculous Appearance: Same as her Hero appearance or regular appearance.

Mental Strengths: Has a movement ability so that she can avoid danger unless if it strikes too fast and not being able to sense it.

Physical Strengths: Superhuman strength (strong enough to lift 50 tons or more), speed, endurance, agility, healing factor, and intelligence. Genetic memory, recalling information from previous hosts. The ability to negate damage caused by terminal illnesses and permanent injuries. While symbiotes can somewhat heal their hosts, they generally seek to force their hosts to depend on them and thus ensure the symbiotes' survival.

Emotional Strengths: Has none because the symbiote does not care about emotions unless if Clemence makes it. Symbiotes have some ability to sense the thoughts and emotions of sentient creatures, though to what extent remains unclear.

Mental Weaknesses: Has no mental weaknesses and respond to her mental commands even without significant bonding, but Lamia can control her mind whenever she likes.

Physical Weaknesses: Weakness is intense sonic vibrations and fire.

Emotional Weaknesses (Akuma prey): Having to calm someone who is sad.

Other: this? I can't know how to understand that.

(The Symbiotes (later revealed to be known as the Klyntar) are a fictional race of amorphous extraterrestrial symbiotes appearing in American comic books published by Marvel Comics. The Symbiotes bond with their hosts, creating a symbiotic bond through which a single entity is created. ... The Klyntar, as the symbiotes call themselves, originate from a planet of the same name in the Andromeda Galaxy, and are a benevolent species which believes in helping others, which they attempt to do by creating heroes through the process of bonding to the morally and physically ideal. The symbiote is even capable of healing injuries and illness that current human medical care cannot such as cancer. Camouflage Capabilities: The symbiote is capable of mimicking the appearance of any form of clothing, camouflaging with its surroundings, and even mimicking other people.)

@Grif: Err, as a longer time member of the original FWRP I'm sure you know more than me but I'm pretty sure that they need a special power, no matter the case.

emeraldink96

Name: Matías Berglund

Hero Name: Anzo (IT'S FUNNY BECAUSE IT MEANS GIANT)

Gender: Demimale (he/him/they/them, generally prefers he/him)

Age (13-17): 17

Sexuality/Orientation: Biromantic Asexual

Appearance: Matias is of relatively average height - around 5'8, and although lean, he's muscular. His eyes a vibrant - almost off-putting at times - shade of green. His complexion is a vaguely healthy-looking tan. His short, wavy hair are naturally dirty blonde, with sideburns that are a shade darker - he has a habit of dyeing his hair - generally dark colours to fit along with the sideburns. His eyes are weighed down by easily spottable eye-bags that he makes no attempt to hide, or better, for that matter. (q: do eyebags actually disappear?? i could get ten hours worth of sleep for weeks but i'm still perma-tired. this is completely unrelated.) There are a number of scratches on his forearms. His nails are generally bitten off, despite the clear polish he applies on them to prevent himself from doing so. His wardrobe's mostly darkly coloured, casual clothing, very much following the rest of his Aesthetique(™). Generally speaking, he wears a plain, dark grey sweatshirt - sometimes, though, he does switch it up by wearing a dark purple (slightly light comparatively, he argues if one were to say that's not much of a difference,) hoodie with a single, white ace drawn on the right breast. He consistently wears identical looking sweatpants, black in colour - one would hope that he just happens to have identical looking ones, instead of the same. Lastly, a ragged looking pair of slip-ons.

Personality: Matías' general appearance makes him come off as aggressive - and he is rather so in nature, too. Fidgety and restless, he looks often as though he's waiting for an argument to strike so he can go on to contribute to it. He has a tendency to stutter, occasionally - usually he repeats a single word. Occasional because the stuttering tends to surface whenever he's excited, which is to say, not very much.

His sense of humour is very morbid, and sometimes as though only there to entertain him. Strangely, any other sense that's not his own appears to fly right above his head. To be entirely fair, it seems as though he doesn't even try much.

He's got rather good street smarts - he at least likes to think he's a charmer, but when he's not fueled by Rage(™), or if he's not dropping one-liners to leave the other person flustered, Matías is weirdly awkward. He's not very good at carrying conversations, yet at the same time incredibly bothered by silence. As a result, he's prone to humming or tapping so as to fill the silence.

He's a huge flirt, but sadly, one without any concept of boundaries. He's not very good at knowing when the other's uncomfortable, resulting in him pushing himself onto others without realising as so.

He considers himself very lucky, though probably just because he gambles A Ton, for money and alcohol. He's addicted to the latter, it seems.

Reading is for NERDS, something that he is NOT, ahem ahem. (bullet points translating badly into paragraphs and me being too lazy to edit them out strikes again)

Hero Appearance: Instead of the obligatory skin-tight suit, he wears a sleeveless hoodie, (breaking the rules even as a hero!!!!) white in colour with horizontal pink stripes scattered along its front and its back. The hood's never on, still. The mask, also pink in colour, has the external gills of the axolotl as a decorative point to his mask. Do they get in the way? Probably. Lastly, he wears black capris.

Hero Personality: Calm and silent. He's more likely to sit around and wait for others to react, or Calmly Formulate A Plan, if you may, than to launch himself in. He's unlikely to interact with others, clearly just here to get rid of the akumas and get over with the job. Most conversations one would hold with him, if they were to try, even, would just consist of various ellipsis from his side. Therefore, most are unlikely to even try to talk.

Weapon: A transparent umbrella with a spray of peach upon it. While not exactly an ideal weapon, Anzo tries to use it as a lance.

Powers: The usual increased physical abilities! He's able to camouflage himself to blend into his surroundings, but that requires a lot of concentration, so he usually doesn't use it much.

Special Power (ie.: Cataclysm, Lucky Charm): Regenerate: As simple as it sounds! Anzo can heal any wounds he chooses to on himself - it's not very useful for continually fighting villains, though, as he reverts back to his civilian form only five minutes after using it.

Miraculous Appearance: A velvety, light pink ribbon with five, darker hexagonal sequins meticulously stitched onto it, and a latch at the end to secure it. Sometimes it seems like it changes its shape and size to fit the holder. It's never on the same place - sometimes Matías prefers to use it as a choker, sometimes as a bracelet, and rarely, as an anklet.

Mental Strengths:

-Street smarts

-Argumentative! While that doesn't always work as a strength, he's good at proving his point and sticking to it.

Physical Strengths:

-muscular

Emotional Strengths:

-haha!! :D

Mental Weaknesses:

-illiterate (i mean while that's not necessarily a weakness it can make certain tasks in everyday life harder.)

-Stubborn!! He's bad at changing his views.

Physical Weaknesses:

-slow

Emotional Weaknesses (Akuma prey):

-Angry, all the time,

-Not good at friendship?? He tries to adopt the look of a Lone Rogue

Other: owo? what's this? a terrible goblin boy?

Name: Laarv (at some point, I gave up)

Pronouns: she/her

Animal: Axolotl

Personality: She's Very dramatic. Laarv appears to be not entirely serious when it comes to her role of being a very important being who's supposed to guide her master. She's more interested in learning of all the developments she missed, and finding all of the kwamis she missed.

Appearance: Standard kwami anatomy. Her almost neon-bright pink gills stand out against her pale body. They 'droop' whenever she's stressed.

Food: Gummy worms

amethystchimaera86

Name: James "Jemmy" Livingston

Age: 15

Gender: male

Sexuality: asexual omniromantic

Appearance: James stands at 5'3" with pale skin and short, very well-tamed black hair with purple-dyed tips. He has deep blue eyes that contain a faint violet hue. He wears a large variety of clothing, and honestly has a preference for feminine attire. His build is pretty average, though it doesn't exactly have much muscle; his frame in general appears quite small.

Personality: James is shy and reserved; he doesn't like social interaction all that much and typically keeps to himself. He always tries to come up with a logical explanation for everything, and he's a little obsessed with connecting the magic of the Miraculous to science. He is self-conscious and paranoid; even the slightest spook can send him into a full-blown panic attack. He is considerate of others' feelings, but is usually far too asocial to empathize with someone when they may be upset. He's also particularly good at reading others' emotions in general; he's not very good at keeping his own feelings in control, though.

Physical Strengths: James is quick and agile; he has incredible reflexes and remarkable reaction time, so much so that some people might consider it inhuman (it's not; he's just good).

Mental Strengths: James is smart and logical – he always analyzes the situation before jumping right in. He knows a lot about science – physics especially – and isn't afraid to show it.

Emotional Strengths: James is pretty good at reading others' emotions, and knows how to keep himself from hurting someone's feelings, but really he's not very good with his own emotions; so practically none.

Physical Weaknesses: James isn't very strong, and can hardly even throw a punch. He also can't swim and isn't very good at most sports.

Mental Weaknesses: James isn't very good at keeping track of or remembering things, and often has a hard time focusing on his goals.

Emotional Weaknesses: James is prone to emotional breakdowns; he has severe anxiety and even mild depression. Although it may not seem like a big detail, he's deathly afraid of spiders and has had panic attacks just because he's in the same room as one. He is very easy to get to, and most insults he will take to the heart.
